CHICAGO DAILY TRIBUNE

The Publishers of THE TRIBUNE deem it to be inappropriate at this time to make a brief statement of their purpose and plan.

1. The first essential of a good Daily consists in its being a Newspaper. News—accurate, reliable, varied and fresh, is the likelihood. The furnishing its Readers with the latest and most authentic information of each of the manifold changes, incidents and developments, occurring throughout the world at are of special interest to the people of Chicago and the West, will be the leading characteristic of THE TRIBUNE.

2. The candid and thorough discussion of those principles which embodies all facts, is also an essential of a good public journal. In the department where THE TRIBUNE will exist to uphold the Truth and the Right. Established on an independent foundation, it will seek to maintain its position by only a fair expression of considerate, yet decided opinions. It will defend whatever it regards as lawful, just and sound, and denounce all that is false, factious and fraudulent in public affairs.

3. For the efficient carrying out of its designs, THE TRIBUNE is arranged in eight Departments, to each of which a competent and responsible manager is wholly devoted. Of these the Commercial Department is under the charge of T. A. HOWARD, Esq., one of the founders of THE TRIBUNE, whose unbounded confidence and esteem are shared by the entire community of our own and neighboring States. Letters will be received also, during the year, from at least one regular correspondent in each of the principal Eastern cities, and in Europe, including Great Britain, France, Germany and Germany. THE TRIBUNE'S corps of Leader Writers has been made up with care, and includes gentlemen of unchallenged ability, accomplished education, and high standing in the country.

4. THE TRIBUNE will support a system of national policy (including the protection of American labor) which will build up industry at home. It will advocate a discriminating Protective Tariff; Harbor and River improvements; the donation of the Public Lands to actual settlers; the opinion of organizing Foreign Questions by honorable negotiation, landmarks, and by laws (see correctment; direct appeal to the People, as far as possible, on all great questions affecting their welfare; and the strictest economy in the administration of the Government.

5. In the hope of a high destiny for this Land of Freedom a founded on its Faith in Progress as the best Inspirer, in the Past as the best Teacher, in the People as the best Sovereign, in Whig Principles as the best Policy, in Republicanism as the best System, in Christianity as the best Hope for, and in the West as the great arena,

The Reformed Presbyterian Church Synod.

We have received an anonymous communication, from a person who says that he is not a member of the Synod, in defence of the course taken by this body at the late session here, in relation to Rev. Mr. Kennedy. He assumes to be "representative," and "unbiased," in what we published on Wednesday, and remarks that editorial sometimes do great injury to a community by making decisions and making comments on points of which they know nothing—a remark, by the way, that is very true, but not applicable, as we see, to the present case.

Our article of yesterday was made up of two distinct parts, the first, and our comments upon the same. The latter, viz., the comments being strictly so, and for them we are responsible, but "misrepresentation" cannot be pollected of them, for they are founded first and last and all upon facts, or supposed facts. They may be objectionable, but cannot be called unfair to others, if based on actual occurrences.

CONGREGATIONAL CONVENTION.—There will be a Congregational Convention held at Watertown, Wisconsin, on Wednesday the 15th day of June next.

SECOND CASUALTY.—A dwelling house belonging to J. T. Hildreth, Esq., about half a mile west of Keenoka, was struck by lightning yesterday about 12 o'clock M., and immediately consumed by fire. Those of the inmates who were not hurt by the shock barely made their escape. It is supposed that Mrs. Hildreth perished in the flames, as she could not be found when our informant left. These facts are given us by a passenger who arrived last evening by the Aretic.

Atlantic Book in New York.

Who redeems George Smith's wild cat currency in New York, is becoming a serious question. A firm in this city, desiring to pay some money in New York, forwarded by express, a lot of the Atlantic bills to a Banker and Broker, to be taken at the discount advertised by Messrs. Smith & Co., in the newspapers in this city. Yesterday, the bills came back by express, with a note saying that they were not redeemable, nor could they be sold. If they are not redeemable in New York, it is time we should know something about the place of their redemption, for the Georgia papers do not give us much ground for hope that they will ever be redeemed at Atlanta, in that State, where the bills purport to be issued.

IMPORTANT!!

Wreck of the Ship William and Mary—Rescue of all the Passengers but two.

SAVANNAH, Monday, May 30.

We learn from the officers of the British mail steamer Conway, from Jamaica, &c., that all but two of the passengers on board the ship William and Mary, recently wrecked off the Great Isaacs, have been saved.

They were saved by a wrecking schooner while the ship was drifting, just before she sunk.

It is like life from the dead, this startling and gratifying news that comes over the telegraph by way of Savannah. To hear that those who were slaughtered at the Norwalk draw bridge had suddenly returned to life, would scarcely surprise us more.

MARRYING ONE'S NIECE.—It is suggested to us that the Autograph reporters may have mistaken the character of Dr. Cox's report to the New School Assembly at Buffalo, and that the question may have regarded the marrying, not a blood relation, but a connection by marriage.

This supposition is very natural, but what will the Register say when it learns that the Telegraph reported truly.

GREAT AUSTRALIAN NUGGET.—Among other discoveries in this extraordinary Gold field, a Nugget, weighing one hundred and thirty-four pounds of pure gold, and worth by 1200 weight 12 ounces to the pound $92,160, has been taken out by a miner, and is now on its way to London on the Sarah Sands propeller.

CHAMBERS'S INFORMATION FOR THE PEOPLE. Vol. 1 and 2. Just received and for sale by A. H. & C. BURLEY & Co. Chicago.

These last published volumes of this valuable Miscellany, contain many interesting stories and sketches in descriptive and illustrative of the spirit of the times—which is inquisitive—disposed to migrate and explore, and progressive in science and the arts. Each volume is complete in itself and affords a comparatively pleasant variety in the way of reading for young people.

THE PREACHER AND THE KING.—Translated from the French of Count Joseph de Maistre, by the Author of "Rose Douglas," "Emilia Wyndham," &c. Chicago: A. H. & C. Burley & Co.

This is substantially a work on the pulpit eloquence, and court preachers and court preaching of the times of Louis XIV, and it gives in the form of a spirited narrative, embracing discourses and professions which belong to the moral history of that extraordinary era.

But time is no place for a sermon, and I am too pleased with the pure air and gentle scenery around me to care even for a short flight in the regions of speculation. The warm fresh feelings of early youth rel back upon my soul, and I feel like shouting, running and jumping as in the days of my juvenility. The grass looks so fresh and green. The flowers sown by the hand of nature seem so bright and sweet, filling the air with their fragrance, and beautifying the vast meadows of the prairie state, that I almost wish myself a second Kit Carson, that I might live continually with nature, and fly forever the strife and the tumult of the marts of trade and the cities of men. Around me there are no towering hills or deep ravines, but the pleasant scenery of a gently undulating country. Prairie and woodland alternately relieve the landscape, and the richness of the country, and the fertility of the soil astonish the traveller accustomed to the rocks and more sterile soil of the east. Every thing around me indicates prosperity and thrift. Timber is more plenty than in the eastern part of our state, the streams are not so languid, while the soil is equally fertile. As the shadows of the evening begin to surround me, I bid you, for the present, farewell.

Traveling Scenes—Tremont House—Air Ethan Hendin.

ST. CHARLES, Ill., May 31, 1853.

When the writer, a few days since, was pleasantly sojourning at Peoria, one of the prettiest towns in the West, he commenced recording his rhapsodies of said model locality for the Tribune, but his articles drifted into its accustomed channel, the New York Daily Times. Reminiscences in the early history of Peoria may form the story and moral of a future communication for the columns of the Tribune. The site of the city forms a semi-circle, environed by a belt of forest, and presents one of the most perfect natural models for a city we have ever seen in our extensive rambles. Night before last we picked up traps and were soon comfortably quartered on board the steamer "Belle Gould," bound for La Salle. The pleasant pilot of Capt. Rodgers, and the portly form of Capt. Russell, the chief clerk, with the constitable Rhoden, assistant, combined with the "home department," and the "interior" of the steamer, rendered the supply of the elements of enjoyment complete. A drenching shower having so recently fallen, refreshing vegetation, all surrounding sublunary things wore a smile, while the very stars sparkled with joy, and seemed to invite to converse. Passengers seemed to be variously employed; some in canvassing the columns of daily issues, others eloquently descanting on the greatness of the West, or some favorite project of railroad building, while the remainder were either wrapped in the arms of Morpheus or some other "extinguisher" of dull care. At an early hour in the morning we were in Peru. We sprang on shore to rush to the post office, hoping to hear from some dear friends we left far away; and after sundry steps, slips and scrapes, in connection with the soap-like soil, we arrived, by a series of haltings, at the door of the somnolent clerk of the shanty where the "mails" do congregate, and received nothing for our pains. We posted on to La Salle, and in due time were attached to the tail of the steam horse, with his lungs of fire, bound for your "Garden City," but hold, we find ourselves, after some five mile ride, in state quo, gazing upon the spot where the railroad was. The heavy rains the night previous had so swollen the rushing mountain torrent that some distance of the track had "vanished like a dream," but conductor Phillips with his promptness and tact by the aid of a posse of natives of the Emerald Isle, in the course of a few hours had all to rights, and on we went, while the passengers were giving varied manifestions of human nature, and the writer occupying his quiet, retired position of observation. At five P. M. we reached your matrellous city, and were soon luxuriously quartered on the Broad "quoge" principle at the Tremont House, which is universally the House this side of Gotham, and takes the million. For the truthfulness of which our autograph is the seal. We speak from experience. To Messrs. Burns and Hunt we tip our coats for courteous attentions amid the crowd who visit the Tremont as guests.

We believe "Gage and Bro." are destined to make a fortune, and give their guests value received. So mote it be. This morning entered the cars for this beautiful and (destined to be) important town, under the courteous guardianship of conductors Wiggins and Knapp. Great interest exists here in relation to the "air line" routes to the Mississippi river, and we opine that some of the projects through the land will and as they began, in "air line," and never reach Terra Firma. The editor of the only paper in town is now East in reference to the air line business, and we don't know but he occupies the high seat. We perceive that "Long John" has this morning a Phillipic upon the subject. As it will not be very interesting to the western readers of the Tribune to give a description of this pleasant town, we will reserve that for the readers of the New York Daily Times. You will hear from me next from somewhere, until then good bye.

Sale of Lots in the Town of St. Paul.—A number of town lots have changed hands since the opening of navigation, at prices ranging from $100 to $1,000. The lots are usually 50 feet front by 150 deep. Those sold for $100 each are located in the additions to the original town plat. On the squares around the Capitol, owners are asking from $200 to $500 per lot. The highest price that we have heard of, paid for naked lots on St. Anthony or Third streets, is $35 per front foot.

Gov. Gorman has fully entered upon the discharge of his official duties. In his first interview with the Sioux and Winnebagoes, the chiefs and head men of which tribes have already arrived, he informed them that their rights should be sacredly protected, and the laws passed for their benefit faithfully administered, and that on their part they must preserve peace among themselves, and cease their tribal feuds.

Troops Arrived.—The Excelsior brought up fifty soldiers of the 4th Infantry, under command of Lieut. W. S. Hancock. They are destined for the new fort on the Minnesota river.

Bricks are scarce in St. Paul, although there are eight brickyards. The price of bricks delivered in St. Paul, is $6.00 per thousand.

The Upper Landing.—$800 have been appropriated by the town of St. Paul for its improvement, which is now progressing.

Arrived.—Major Murphy, the new Sioux Agent, arrived on the Ben. Campbell and left yesterday on the Dr. Franklin for St. Louis to obtain the money for the Sioux annuities. The Major intends to bring from one hundred to one hundred and fifty head of cattle, oxen and cows, to supply the Minnesota market.

Immigrants.—Every steamer brings crowds of settlers, embracing hard working thrifty people, and men of capital. From present appearances the population of the Territory will increase 100 per cent before the close of the season.

The New Hotel.—The erection of the new hotel, corner of St. Anthony and Eagle streets, up town, is going ahead briskly. It will be of brick and cost $25,000. Hurry up the bricks, for the people are coming in crowds.

Minnesota River Trade.—There are three boats in this trade at present; all doing a rushing business, viz: the Clarion, Blackhawk and Tiger. They go crowded with passengers and freight.

Lumber Trade.—The boom above town is full of logs; containing 12,000,000 feet, worth in St. Louis more than $100,000. $250,000 worth of logs will go below this season from the Rum river pineries alone. We learn from good authority that the lumber trade of the Territory has increased 100 per cent. since last season. Our lumber is equal in value to a California gold mine, and is alone sufficient to enrich the Territory. The supply is inexhaustible for a long time to come. Farmers who settle up the Mississippi, will find plenty of customers among the lumbermen in their vicinity, at high prices. Nearly all the supplies for the pineries are brought up from below.

Potatoes of the best sort are brought to town by our farmers, and sold in the streets of from 45 to 50 cents per bushel.

Surplus.—The only crops produced in Minnesota, of which we have a surplus to ship down stream, are pine lumber, cranberries, potatoes and furs.

POLITE OLD PHYSICIAN.—An old physician called logether, when he was told that old Frederick of Prussia was dead, asked anxiously, "Are you very sure dat he is dead?—quite sure." "Oh yes, undoubtedly!" "Sure in the pedon." "You are very, very sure?"—"Perfectly so." "Well, now he is really dead, I will say he vas de greatest tyrant dat ever existed."

PRESERVATIVE AGAINST MOTHS.—A small piece of paper or linen moistened with turpentine, and put into the wardrobe or drawers for a single day, two or three times a year, is a sufficient preservative against moths.

The Assembly at Buffalo—Marrying a Niece.

There seems to be a difference of opinion about the facts of the marriage case, lately brought before the Assembly at Buffalo. Some, we are told, contend that the word "wife" is omitted in the published reports, and that it should read "wife's niece." Others say that it means sister-in-law's daughter, instead of sister's daughter; the last being the reading in some papers. We have before us dozens of published reports of the statement, as presented by Dr. Cox, derived from as many different sources, and all agree in giving it as we have represented. Dr. Cox has referred, before the Assembly, to the opinions of the public press, and the Clerk of the Assembly has written to one of the Buffalo papers on the subject, but neither of them stated or hinted that the published statement of the question was incorrect. It is hard to believe, we acknowledge, but we see no escape.

The Major intends to bring from one hundred to one hundred and fifty head of cattle, oxen and cows, to supply the Minnesota market.

Immigrants.—Every steamer brings crowds of settlers, embracing hard working thrifty people, and men of capital. From present appearances the population of the Territory will increase 100 per cent before the close of the season.

The New Hotel.—The erection of the new hotel, corner of St. Anthony and Eagle streets, up town, is going ahead briskly. It will be of brick and cost $25,000. Hurry up the bricks, for the people are coming in crowds.

Minnesota River Trade.—There are three boats in this trade at present; all doing a rushing business, viz: the Clarion, Blackhawk and Tiger. They go crowded with passengers and freight.

Lumber Trade.—The boom above town is full of logs; containing 12,000,000 feet, worth in St. Louis more than $100,000. $250,000 worth of logs will go below this season from the Rum river pineries alone. We learn from good authority that the lumber trade of the Territory has increased 100 per cent. since last season. Our lumber is equal in value to a California gold mine, and is alone sufficient to enrich the Territory. The supply is inexhaustible for a long time to come. Farmers who settle up the Mississippi, will find plenty of customers among the lumbermen in their vicinity, at high prices. Nearly all the supplies for the pineries are brought up from below.

Potatoes of the best sort are brought to town by our farmers, and sold in the streets of from 45 to 50 cents per bushel.

Surplus.—The only crops produced in Minnesota, of which we have a surplus to ship down stream, are pine lumber, cranberries, potatoes and furs.

POLITE OLD PHYSICIAN.—An old physician called together, when he was told that old Frederick of Prussia was dead, asked anxiously, "Are you very sure dat he is dead?—quite sure." "Oh yes, undoubtedly!" "Sure in the pedon." "You are very, very sure?"—"Perfectly so." "Well, now he is really dead, I will say he vas de greatest tyrant dat ever existed."

PRESERVATIVE AGAINST MOTHS.—A small piece of paper or linen moistened with turpentine, and put into the wardrobe or drawers for a single day, two or three times a year, is a sufficient preservative against moths.

Too many Banks and Railroads.

The following from Thompson's Reporter is short, but to the point and timely.

We do not believe in borrowing trouble, and old fogies and croakers are our special aversion, but when the financial engine gets too much steam on and the safety valves have to be opened, or the whole train runs off the track, the spirit of the age is progressive—the motto of the times is "go ahead"—no matter at what cost, or what risk, or where you go to, but go ahead; don't stand still nor lag behind, but push on—keep moving; this is what is taught the rising generation, and the rising generation is remarkably quick at acting upon the advice. The consequence is, every branch of industry, trade and commerce is extended to the utmost, enterprises undertaken and carried out by individuals that twenty years ago, Governments would not have ventured upon.

The expansion just now is in manufacturing Banks and building Railroads, and we think there is more of both done than is needed. Railroads are useful and absolutely necessary, and every mile that is built adds to the wealth of the country, but they should be built and paid for by those who receive the most benefit from them—they should be built by actual subscriptions, and not by the sale of mortgage bonds. The bonded indebtedness of this country is enormous, and the amount of various loans on the London market for such, is estimated at seven hundred millions of dollars. It is not difficult to imagine that the time may come when it will not be a very easy matter to pay the interest merely on our Railroad debt, and in many cases the principal, when due, can only be paid by renewal.

The increase of Banks is also too rapid; they spring up in every town and village, and in cities they monopolize all the corners, and are as common as grocery stores. The increase is, we think, greater than the country requires. A little reflection will satisfy every one that there can be such a thing as too many Banks; and in our opinion this is just the time when a little reflection is most needed.

Colored Emigration to Jamaica.

The Kingston (Ja.) Despatch—Among the passengers who arrived in this city by a recent steamer from Jamaica, West Indies, was a Mr. J Wesley Harrison, a colored man, a native and formerly a free citizen of South Carolina. About two years ago he emigrated to Jamaica, with his family, in the hope of bettering his own and their condition. He professes to have succeeded. He thinks the condition of the free black in that island far more desirable and promising than in the United States, and is well pleased with the exchange he has made. He now visits his native country for the purpose of persuading free People of his own color to follow his example; to go to Jamaica in quest of new homes and enjoy the many blessings of peace, civilized and profession is open to them, and in which they may share equally with the whites all political rights and responsibilities.

Mr. Harrison is an intelligent man, about forty years of age, brings letters from some of the most respectable people in Jamaica. He claims to have authority from a large planter on the island, who is the owner of about ten miles square of land for a large number of free colored man emigrants who will occupy it, at the rate of one dollar per acre. He is also authorized, as he informs us, to offer a large sugar estate, provided with all the necessary machinery, &c., to any colored Americans who will undertake to put the land under cultivation and work it, five years for nothing, and after that at such a price as they may mutually agree upon.

Mr. Harrison's mission is one which ought to provoke no hostility from any quarter, and we presume it will only be hoped the press will circulate the notice of his mission as widely as possible among the colored people; and we do not hesitate to add our best wishes that it may be crowned with success. The prize of liberty is a dark future before it, in the United States. We know of no civilized country to which it can emigrate where it will not be improved in its condition and prospects.

NEW APPLICATION OF ELECTRIC POWER.—The prospectus of an association has been issued in London, for the formation of the Electric Printing and Color Company, with a proposed capital of £250,000, in 50,000 shares of £5 each. The object sought to be attained is the carrying out of a very discovered system of working electric batteries, by which that means produces, in addition to electricity, several valuable articles of commerce, which it is estimated will repay the cost of the apparatus in body and tone the same descriptions of articles manufactured by the ordinary processes, and various chemical compounds, among which are enumerated nitrate of soda, salt cake, sulphuric acid, acetic ether, ammonia, and plaster of Paris. The power, it is stated, may be cheaply applied to the following purposes, viz: for heating, telegraphing, electrotyping, motive power, desulphurisation of coke, smelting, bleaching, and numerous other technological purposes. The invention has been publically tested in several parts of London, and has excited great attention. A treatise has been prepared by Dr. Watson, one of the patentees, fully detailing the process of preparing the light, producing the colors, &c. A charter of incorporation is to be applied for.

GHOSTOLOGY.

Hon. N. P. Tallmadge on Spiritual Manifestations.

Hon. N. P. Tallmadge spent much of the last winter in Washington, where he devoted a good deal of time and attention to the alleged "Spiritual Manifestations" whereof the Misses Foxes, then in Washington, were the "mediums." Mr. T. became thoroughly convinced of the verity and importance of these "Manifestations," and so declared himself in a letter just published in The National Intelligencer, from which we extract a few statements:

After the arrival of the Misses Fox in Washington City in February last, I called on them by appointment, and, at once, received a communication by rapping.

I then wrote down and propounded mentally the following question:

"Can you do anything (meaning physical manifestations) to convince me in the truth of these revelations, and to remove from my mind the least shadow of unbelief?"

To which I received the following answer:

"I will give you a communication on Monday, at 7½ o'clock. Do not fail to be here. I will then give you an explanation.

"JOHN C. CALHOUN."

It is proper here to remark, that all the communications referred to in this letter, were made by Calhoun after a call for the alphabet, and were rapped out, letter by letter, and taken down by me, as the words were. They were made in the presence of the Misses Fox, and their mother.

I called on Monday at the hour appointed, and received the following communication:

"My friend, the question is often put to you, 'What good can result from these manifestations?' I will answer it."

"It is to unite mankind together in harmony, and convince skeptics of the immortality of the Soul. JOHN C. CALHOUN."

This reminds me that in 1850, at Dr. Sargent, in the presence of other mediums, among many questions put and answers received, were the following—the answer purporting to come from W. R. CRAWFORD.

Q.—What do Spirits propose to accomplish by these new manifestations?

A.—To unite mankind, and to convince skeptical minds of the existence of "the soul."

The coincidence in sentiment of the answer of J. C. Calhoun and W. R. Chanving in regard to the object of these manifestations is remarkable, and worthy of particular notice. The concurrence of two such great minds, whether in or out of the body, on a subject so engrossing, cannot fail to command the attention of every admirer of exalted intellect and moral purity.

During the above communication of Calhoun, the table moved occasionally, perhaps a foot, first one way and then the other. After the communication closed, we all moved back from the table, from two to four feet—so that no one touched the table. Suddenly the table moved from the position it occupied some three or four feet, rested a few moments—and then moved back to its original position. Then it again moved as far in the other way, and returned to the place it started from. One side of the table was then raised, and stood for a few moments at an angle of about thirty-five degrees, and then again rested on the floor in a usual way.

The table was a large, heavy, round table at which ten or a dozen persons might be seated at dinner. During all these movements no person touched the table our own hands in any manner whatever.

After seeing it raised in the manner above mentioned, I had the curiosity to test its weight by my own strength. I accordingly took my seat by it—placed my hands under the leaf, and exerted as much force as I was capable of in that sitting posture, and could not raise it a particle from the floor. I then stood up, in the most possible position to exert the greatest force—took hold of the leaf, and still could not raise it with all my strength. I could apply, I then supposed, three inches to take hold around the table, and try altogether to lift it. We lifted upon it until the leaf and top began to crack, and did not rise from its position. We then desisted fearing we should break the table. I then said, "Will the spirits permit me to raise the table?" I took hold alone and raised it without difficulty.

After this the following conversation ensued:

Q.—Can you raise the table entirely from the floor? A. Yes.

Q.—Will you raise me with it? A. Yes: Get me the square table.

The square table was of cherry, with four legs—a large, five ton table. It was brought out and substituted for the round one, the leaves being raised. I took my seat on the centre; the three ladies sat at the sides and end; their hands on arms rested upon it. This, of course, added to the weight to be raised, namely, my own weight, and the weight of the table. Two legs of the table were then raised about six inches from the floor; and then the other two legs were raised to a level of the first, so that the whole table was suspended in the air about 6 inches above the floor. While thus seated on it, I could feel a gentle, vibratory motion, as if floating in the atmosphere. After being thus suspended in the air for a few moments, the table was gently let down again to the floor!

GIGANTIC STEAMERS.—We published yesterday among our items of foreign news an announcement that a contract has been made in England for the construction of a mammoth steamer of upward of six hundred feet in length and measuring 12,000 tons. The idea of a monster ship like this is not original with John Bull, Mr. Borden, of Troy, New York, a man of wealth and a mechanic of genius, some years ago suggested the construction of a steamer 700 feet in length and of corresponding depth and width, to run between Europe and America. Mr. Borden's idea was that it is practicable to construct a steamer, which would go across the Atlantic with as little motion as our Brooklyn ferry steamers run to and from this city. He proposed that this steamer should draw seventy-five feet of water, and her top be an hundred feet above the water line. The maximum height of the waves of the ocean from the bottom of the sea trough to the crest of the wave is thirty five feet; hence Mr. Burden concluded that a vessel of seventy five feet draught would always run on a nearly level keel. There are but few ports where such a vessel could enter. On our coast, Newport offers the greatest facilities of a good harbor, with ease of access and plenty of water, and here Mr. Burden promised to establish the head quarters of his ship. No steps were ever taken to carry out the magnificent ideas of our countryman, and it is now broached on the other side of the Atlantic, and measures are taken to secure its realization.—New York Paper.

IMPORTANT INVENTION.—The Buffalo Express says that a machine has been invented by a mechanic of that city, though it is not yet patented, which will do the entire pegging of a shoe, with either one, two or three rows of pegs, just as you please, in from two to three minutes. The number of rows makes no difference in the time, and the work is pronounced far better than hand work can be done. A further novelty in the case is, that this machine makes its own pegs as it does its work, and thus destroys the value of that ingenious machine for making pegs that has so long been both useful and profitable.

ATLANTA WILD CAT.—Fair warning, boys! don't let the wild cat bite ye. He is cunning as a fox, and fierce as a panther. His paws are huge, talons sharp, and will make desperate rents in your pockets, if not in your hides. He did'nt leave the sunny hills of merry Southern climes to dwell on the wild plains of Illinois for nothing. He has his eye on his game and he is bound to have it. We bet him who sleepeth when he prowls!—Western Freeman.

DON'T BE IN A HURRY.—It's no sort of use.—We never knew a fellow who was always in a hurry, that wasn't always behind hand. They are proverbial all over the world for bringing nothing at all to pass. Hurry, skurry, bluster, splutter—what does it all amount to? Not a straw. If you mean to accomplish anything it should be done, you must go about it coolly, moderately, firmly, faithfully, heartily. Hurrying, fretting, fuming, spluttering, will do no good—not in the least degree. Don't be in a hurry, man made in a hurry! Not at all. They are the produce of time, patience—the result of slow, solid development. Nothing can be—nothing ought to be done in a hurry. It is contrary to nature, reason, revelation, right, justice, common sense. Your man of hurry is no sort of character at all. Always in confusion, loose prongs of speech, unhinged gait, disjointed, blowing, and puffing here and there, racing, ranting, staving—but all ending in smoke.

LOCAL MATTERS.

Horticultural Improvements.

We are glad to observe that this season more than ever before, our citizens are turning their attention to the improvement of their grounds and the proper cultivation of their gardens.

Nothing helps so much to give an air of taste and refinement to a city, as ornamental trees and well laid out gardens; and it is with pleasure we have noticed that the attention of our wealthier citizens is more than ever turned to that department of taste.

Among the rest we notice the fine grounds of Walter L. Newberry are undergoing a thorough change. For natural advantages they are surpassed by none in the City, and the labor and care now being bestowed upon them will add much to the already fine appearance of the North side.

In a great business mart we are too apt to neglect horticultural improvements; but we should remember that a city is judged by its general appearance, and that trees and flowers even more than costly mansions and splendid public buildings, help to impress it favorably upon the minds of strangers.

CLEMENT'S LINE AND MILWAUKEE AND MISSISSIPPI RAILROAD.—By the present arrangement of these lines of travel, passengers leaving Chicago by morning boat, will arrive at Janesville at 9 o'clock, P. M., same day, where Stages connect with Madison, Monroe, Mineral Point, &c. Going East, leave Janesville by 5 A. M. Express train, arrive at Milwaukee in time for the morning boat going south, and arrive in Chicago at 5 P. M., in time for Evening Express trains on the Michigan Southern and Michigan Central Roads.

The steamers Arctic, Capt. T. G. Butler, and the Traveler, Capt. C. R. Cooper, are established favorites, and this route to Central Wisconsin will be a popular one.

THE FIRE ON TUESDAY NIGHT.—We are glad to learn that Mr. Morgan's loss was covered by insurance to the amount of $2,500. The destruction of property is said to amount to nearly $7,000.

☞ Mr. Dempster the distinguished vocalist arrived in town last evening, and will give a concert at Tremont Hall this evening. The Programme is an excellent one, and among the pieces we notice the "May Queen" the "Blind Boy" and the "Emigrant's Lament," which it will be remembered, are the compositions of Mr. Dempster. This is the only concert he will give in our city at this time.

THE GERMANIAS.—These artists are expected in town to-day. They number twenty three and whoever has seen the large lithograph of them will expect to see a company of no ordinary appearance. The tickets for the concert of Saturday evening are selling rapidly, we are informed.

UNITED STATES GAZETTEERS.—A new and valuable work, under this title, is just coming out, published by J. H. Colton, of New York, the well known Map publisher. It must take the precedence of all older works of the kind, as its statistics are based on the census of 1850. In our country, Gazetteers and Geographies get out of date quickly, and must either be revised frequently or supplanted by new ones. It may be more expensive for the consumer, but it must be borne by those who wish to have correct statements.

The work before us is exceedingly well printed, in full in its statistics, and must be correct, coming from such a publisher. It is sold by subscription, and Mr. I. N. Mason, the Agent for this State, is in the city, and will make arrangements immediately for presenting the work to our citizens. He can be seen at the Garden City House for a few days. Mr. F. H. Bleeker will canvass this city.

MOSS LUDERUS.—Mr. Fernald, No. 7 State St. Market, has just received a lot of yankee fixings, such as fresh lobsters and clams, smoked salmon, halibit and sea-trout, with all the dressings to suit. Mr. Fernald furnished the first tomatoes and bananas of the season for the Sherman House, which we noticed last week. Here is energy.

ENTERTAINMENT FOR THE PUBLIC.—On Saturday evening, the Garden City Brass Band, under the directorship of Mr. Wm. Bookhart, will give a concert at Dearborn Park. They propose to continue them during the summer, if a sufficient sum is raised to defray the expense. That this will be done we have no doubt, and it is desirable that enough be raised to secure music for at least three evenings in a week. Those interested in hearing such a worthy, and delightful recreation for themselves, or for others, will have an opportunity, on Saturday evening, to hear the music of Mr. Bookhart's Band, and judge of its character.

I. O. of O. F.

Police Court.

Before His Honor, Mayor Gray.

TUESDAY, June 3d.

The Police Court exhibited more animation this morning than for two days past, and rather less of the tragic than yesterday's case presented.

JOHN ANDERSON—Feeling somewhat oppressed by the extreme rubtesque of the weather, yesterday evening, went down to the beach, and stripping himself of all his clothing, lay down on the sand and went to sleep. We cannot say whether his intention was to take a bath, and was too drunk to find his way into the water, or whether he imagined himself at home, and was simply going to bed. At any rate, the city guardians had compassion on his lonely situation, and provided him with less exposed lodgings for the night. But, as a matter of course the bill must be paid, and John Anderson my Jon paid $5 and costs, and left with an admonition to be more choice in his selection of lodgings.

OWEN MCGRATH—A laborer in the employ of the M. S. Railroad, found drunk on Water st. Ordinary case; fined $3 and costs.

WM. THORP, sailor—Found drunk and noisy. He denied the charge most emphatically, and dared the court to prove it, which was very easily done, and he was fined $3 and costs.

This announcement aroused a storm of indignation in the breast of the innocent Thropp, who blew great guns for a while, hounded ovhr the railing at the risk of great damage to both hull and rigging, and blasting his eyes if he ever paid it. The Mayor ordered him back, and intimated something relative to thirty days of Bridewell, when a sudden calm took the place of the storm, his shipmates assisted him to pay his fine, and he took his departure.

LIGHT HOUSE KEEPER.—Judge Henry S. Fuller has been appointed Light-House Keeper of this Port, and has entered upon his duties.

To TRAVELERS.—See the new advertisement of the Michigan Southern and Northern Indiana Railroad. Three trains leave daily at 5 30 A. M., at 12 M., and at 9 P. M.

HAGMA AND COCOA.—Every body in this country of course, is quite familiar with these two excellent articles of diet for invalids, broma and cocoa, manufactured by Walter Baker & Co., of Dorchester, Mass. Some years since the special consideration of medical practitioners was called to these preparations, as appropriate food for the sick, in the various conditions of debility and prostration to which they are sometimes reduced, leaving the digestive apparatus too feeble to appropriate any but the most delicate nutriment. Medical gentlemen of eminence of this city were delighted with Mr. Bakers broma, and from that period to this its good character has been sustained.

Another set of physicians have commenced business since that period, who may not have become familiar with the article; and we therefore refer again to the subject, for the purpose of reminding both our young medical friends at home and abroad, that they will derive important advantages from the use of these admirable kinds of food. Druggists in the interior would find their account in always keeping both on hand with a view of meeting the prescription of medical attendants. From our own personal experience of the value of broma particularly, we can speak decidedly in its favor.

Those who prefer to make the cocoa at home, will find it in two-penny packages, and it will be found very convenient for use.

Tickets 75 Cts. for this Night only.

Woman and Flowers.—The editor of the Louisville Journal has a very readable article under this head, from which we cut the closing paragraph. It is full of the true poetry of natural and refined sentiments:

"Blessings on the heads of those who send flowery presents to those whose energies have been desolated by disease! Flowers impart not only freshness and beauty to one's sick room, but they absolutely light up the gloom that hangs around it like a dark curtain, and cause cheerfulness to take the place of heaviness and oppression of heart. Often has our soul felt exceedingly grateful to these dear women who have considered our low estate, and sent flowers, fresh, fragrant and beautiful, to cheer our invalidism. Could we strew their pathway through life with flowers, how eagerly would our hand perform the task! Had flowers no other office than to minister to the pleasures of the sick, that of itself would be reason sufficient why they should be cultivated. But when we remember that they are not only an ever pleasant joy to the eye, but may also true and genial teachers of moral truth and excellence, as well as tender prompters to the highest as well as the most refined sentiments, we can perceive of how great importance it is that the hand and heart of woman's power is in her loveliness, and she ought to do everything to encourage it. Her loveliness has broken the bondage in which many a coarse man was bound, and which had resisted persuasion and force through many a year. Let her increase her power by adding to her loveliness, and she will not fail to do it she give her heart up to a love of "the beautiful poetry of earth."

Ague Hint.—A vigorous man breathes forth from his lungs each day, about thirteen ounces of pure carbon. This quantity of carbon is equivalent to an equal weight of pure charcoal. Burn it in his lungs, to develop the electro dynamic exhibition or oxidizing animal heat and animal motive power. At this rate, a man burns about twice his weight of carbon every year, and in the allotted term of three score years and ten, consumes about two tons of carbon or charcoal, in developing animal heat and motive power.

Arthritis Annully Advised.—Adored and angelic Amelia—accept an ardent and artless swain's address, alleviate a anguished admirers alarms, and answer an amorous applicant's answered ardor. Ah, Amelia! all appears so awful; aspect ambition, avarice, and arrogance, also are attractive allurements, and ardent attachment appears an asking. Answer admirer's alarms, and adieu to anxiety. Address Albert's allusion as agreeable and amiable, rationally enabling and fortunate. Affectionate answer, accept an assured address.

Adieu.

Woman and Flowers.—The editor of the Louisville Journal has a very readable article under this head, from which we cut the closing paragraph. It is full of the true poetry of natural and refined sentiments:

"Blessings on the heads of those who send flowery presents to those whose energies have been desolated by disease! Flowers impart not only freshness and beauty to one's sick room, but they absolutely light up the gloom that hangs around it like a dark curtain, and cause cheerfulness to take the place of heaviness and oppression of heart. Often has our soul felt exceedingly grateful to these dear women who have considered our low estate, and sent flowers, fresh, fragrant and beautiful, to cheer our invalidism. Could we strew their pathway through life with flowers, how eagerly would our hand perform the task! Had flowers no other office than to minister to the pleasures of the sick, that of itself would be reason sufficient why they should be cultivated. But when we remember that they are not only an ever pleasant joy to the eye, but may also true and genial teachers of moral truth and excellence, as well as tender prompters to the highest as well as the most refined sentiments, we can perceive of how great importance it is that the hand and heart of woman's power is in her loveliness, and she ought to do everything to encourage it. Her loveliness has broken the bondage in which many a coarse man was bound, and which had resisted persuasion and force through many a year. Let her increase her power by adding to her loveliness, and she will not fail to do it she give her heart up to a love of "the beautiful poetry of earth."

Ague Hint.—A vigorous man breathes forth from his lungs each day, about thirteen ounces of pure carbon. This quantity of carbon is equivalent to an equal weight of pure charcoal. Burn it in his lungs, to develop the electro dynamic exhibition or oxidizing animal heat and animal motive power. At this rate, a man burns about twice his weight of carbon every year, and in the allotted term of three score years and ten, consumes about two tons of carbon or charcoal, in developing animal heat and motive power.

Arthritis Annully Advised.—Adored and angelic Amelia—accept an ardent and artless swain's address, alleviate a anguished admirers alarms, and answer an amorous applicant's answered ardor. Ah, Amelia! all appears so awful; aspect ambition, avarice, and arrogance, also are attractive allurements, and ardent attachment appears an asking. Answer admirer's alarms, and adieu to anxiety. Address Albert's allusion as agreeable and amiable, rationally enabling and fortunate. Affectionate answer, accept an assured address.

Adieu.
